

Get to Know the Leader

Meet Frank Levanduski, a dynamic and trusted leader who's been helping providers navigate the ever-evolving world of coding and documentation at Henry Ford Health for over 12 years.

Frank leads a talented team of 24, supporting over 2,500 providers across 45 specialties and subspecialties. Together, they deliver continuous education and quality reviews focused on professional coding, risk-based care, and documentation excellence — critical areas often overlooked in traditional medical training.

What motivates Frank every day?

"Coding guidelines are constantly changing, and if I can make a provider's day easier with what I know, it helps them focus on what really matters — treating patients."

He describes Henry Ford's culture as family-focused, humble, and deeply committed to innovation. What's surprised him most?

"The transparency and collaboration. Good ideas are welcomed from anyone — and leadership truly listens."

Fun facts about Frank:

- He's a Cleveland native and loyal (long-suffering!) Browns fan 🏈
- He's the proud parent of two (ages 8 and 12), which means he's basically an expert in Disney musicals and YouTube gamers
- And yes — he once won a jelly bean guessing contest. The magic number? 328.

Frank's leadership reminds us that even the most behind-the-scenes roles can have a powerful impact on the frontlines of care.
