

ADVANCE CARE PLANNING FACILITATOR TRAINING

The advance care planning (ACP) facilitator is an emerging role in healthcare. ACP facilitators are instrumental in helping individuals, their families and their loved ones become more engaged in person-centered decision making.

Who should become an ACP Facilitator?

The ACP Facilitator Certification course is intended for healthcare clinicians (nurses, social workers, chaplains, physicians) and others involved in assisting individuals (and their advocates) with preparing for future health care needs.

April classes will be held virtually

8:30 a.m. to 4 p.m.

Cost: $150 for Henry Ford Health System employees, $200 for others

APRIL 2: First Steps® (FS) ACP Facilitator Certification

This course is designed to help participants learn the skills needed to facilitate foundational ACP discussions with any adult. First Steps focus is on relatively healthy adults who have not identified an Advocate have no Advance Directive.

APRIL 9: Next Steps ACP Facilitator Training

This course is designed to equip individuals to facilitate conversations with patients who have a serious medical condition with complications, functional decline, co-morbidities and/or frequent hospital or ER visits.

APRIL 16: Shared Decision Making in Serious Illness (SDMSI)

This curriculum is intended for physicians and advance practitioners caring for patients with serious illness and their families.
