It's a New Day

CANCER SURVIVOR RETREAT For Women

The "It's a New Day" retreats offer women who have survived cancer a chance to celebrate life and to find comfort, strength and restoration. Retreats are designed to offer women who have completed their cancer treatments an opportunity to understand their new life as a survivor.

Enjoy sessions with experts spanning a variety of areas: yoga, massage, nutrition, therapy, dance, journaling and social work, as well as sessions with doctors and health care professionals. Survivors will have the opportunity to share their experiences, learn from others and build relationships. Messaging will center on self-reliance, the power of love, peace and positive energy, and embracing life changes.

Donation of $35 includes two-nights lodging and all meals and activities. (Transportation is not provided.)
